

*Pollak Library Undergraduate Guide to the APA Citation Style
Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th Edition*

Academic research requires that you cite the sources you consult, both to acknowledge the input and to give the reader directions to the material. It is your responsibility to confirm with your instructor which citation style to use for a particular assignment. APA is used primarily in the social sciences and in some of the natural sciences. The examples below are not official. To create a good Reference List or Bibliography and for correct citation, you must consult the print manual. Copies are kept behind the ILC Reference & Research Services Desk on the first floor of Library North. All formatting is at your professor's or department's discretion. See <http://www.apastyle.org> for more information.

There are two parts to correct APA citation in a paper. The Citation in Text takes a reader from an idea or quotation in the text of the paper to its source citation in the Reference List. The Reference List citation has the necessary source information to allow retrieval of the specific document. A Citation in Text (except personal communications) must be in the Reference List, and all Reference List entries must be cited in the text. A Reference List cites works that were used in the research and creation of a document. A Bibliography provides additional sources that were not directly used.

APA Style Elements (numbers below refer to specific parts of the APA manual.) See sample papers: Figures 2.1-2.3, pp. 40-59

6.11-6.21 Citation in text is usually the author surname and date of publication, separated by a comma and in parentheses.

- If either the author or date is given in the paragraph, cite only the missing information in parentheses. If the author and date are given in the paragraph, no further citation is required.
- 6.15 No author/Anonymous: Use the first few words of the Reference List entry. Italicize book titles, use quotation marks for article titles. If the work is listed in the Reference List as anonymous, cite in text as anonymous. [For the difference between these two, see p. 183.]
- 6.11-6.13 Distinctions are made between initial and subsequent citations in text. [See also Table 6.1, p. 177.]
 - First time used: Full list of multiple authors (up to 5 authors), group names such as government agencies, corporations, etc. as found in the Reference List. For 6 or more authors, use the first surname and et al.
 - Subsequent use in the same paragraph: Use the first name listed or the group name abbreviation and no year.
 - With 2 authors, always cite both names every time referenced.
- 6.19 Specific parts: (quotations, charts, chapters, etc.): Include page, section, paragraph, or chapter number as appropriate.
- 6.20 Personal and unrecoverable communications (e-mail, letters, personal or unpublished interviews, etc.) are ONLY cited in text, not in the Reference List. Use initials with surname and the phrase “personal communication,” followed by the date.
- 6.03 Quotations < 40 words should be treated with quotation marks as part of the text; for ≥ 40 words use a freestanding, indented block, no quotation marks, followed by source information in parentheses with no period at end [See examples on p. 171. See 6.05 for quotations from online material with no page numbers.]
- 6.16 Two or more works by different authors can be cited within the same parentheses separated by a semicolon in alphabetical order.

6.17 While it is always advisable to use original source materials, citation of a work discussed in another source is possible, if necessary: Identify the work in the text, but include the phrase “as cited in” along with the secondary source citation. Include only the secondary source in the Reference List.

Examples:

First time cited	...described in a recent report (Jackson, Sifers, Warren, & Velasquez, 2003). Jackson, Sifers, Warren, and Velasquez (2003) reported... A 2003 study (Jackson, Sifers, Warren, & Velasquez) shows... In 2003, Jackson, Sifers, Warren, and Velasquez wrote that... (National Institutes of Health [NIH], 2007) College Bound Seniors (2008) ("StudyFinds," 2007) (Anonymous, 1998)
Subsequent citations if used in another paragraph	(Jackson et al.) (Jackson et al., 2003) (Callanan & Jipson) (NIH)
To specific part of text	(Jackson et al., 2003, p. 105) As Leiker notes, "... " (p. 9)
Personal Communication	(Y. Jackson, personal communication, April 21, 2007) Jackson has said (personal communication, April 21, 2007) that ...
A work found in another source	Murua's variation of the poem (as cited in Adorno, 1986, p. 158) underscores ...

ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY: In addition to the appropriate citation, add a brief description of the material, highlighting the importance of the work (why you are using it). Consult your professor for specific assignment requirements.

Reference List entries contain Author (last name, initials). (Year of publication). Title (books/reports italicized). Publication data.

P. 180 DOUBLE-SPACE and use hanging indent for each entry (all but first line indented 5 spaces). [See also 2.11 and p. 229.]

- Some abbreviations may be used: ed. (edition), Ed. (editor), n.d., Vol. (specific), Vols. (no. of vols. in a set), Suppl., etc. All end in a period. Months in dates are not abbreviated. And is usually abbreviated (&) [see 6.27].
- Publisher information for nonperiodicals should include city and state (or city and country if outside of the U.S.) [see 6.30].

6.25 Arrange list alphabetically by author and within same author, by date, earliest first. For entries with the same first author and different 2nd and 3rd authors, continue alphabetization by 2nd and/or 3rd author. Use author order as listed on title page.

- No author: Enter by group, agency, institution or title. If truly anonymous (seldom used), use Anonymous as the author name.

6.27 List all authors (last name, initials) for up to 7 authors. For 8 or more, list the first 6, insert 3 ellipses (. . .), and enter last author.

- Edited works: Place editors in author position and add (Ed.) or (Eds.) in parentheses after the last name.
- No author: Move title to author position.

6.29 Capitalize: The first letter in the first word of a book, chapter, or article title and subtitle; all proper nouns; periodical titles.

- Use brackets immediately after a title, including article titles, to indicate forms such as [Letter to the editor], [Abstract], [CD].

6.32, pp. 191-192 Do not add a period after providing a DOI or URL. [See p. 192 for breaking URLs across lines.]
