

INLS 501: Information Resources and Services

Fall 2023 | Tuesday and Thursday: 8:00-9:15 am | Manning 303

School of Information and Library Science at UNC - Chapel Hill

Instructor: Sarah Morris, M.S.L.S.

E-mail: semorris@email.unc.edu

Office hours by appointment: <https://calendar.lib.unc.edu/appointments/humanities?g=6647>

Course website: canvas.unc.edu

Course description

Analysis, use, and evaluation of information and reference systems, services, and tools for both printed and electronic delivery. Provides a foundation in information search techniques, question negotiation, interviewing, and instruction.

Prerequisites

None. This course is recommended for the MSLS program and is recommended to be taken during the first or second semester of the program.

Course and learning objectives

By the end of this course, students will:

- Explore the characteristics of reference services and work.
- Utilize, compare, and evaluate reference sources through inspection and observation.
- Know the functions and arrangements of various information sources and services through reading, observation, and inspection.
- Recognize which types of sources to consult for specific types of questions and how to access them.
- Hone communication skills to facilitate effective consultation interviews and library instruction.
- Understand the relationship between library instruction, consultation, and special information services.
- Develop increased awareness of effective reference techniques and programs, including reference desk trends, the expansion of special information services, and the use of emerging technologies.
- Reflect on a professional and personal philosophy of reference service work.
- Engage professionally with class colleagues, librarians, and information professionals.

- Identify the ethical considerations associated with reference and information services.

Course materials :

Required textbook (Electronic edition available at UNC- Library below. Unlimited users so you all should be able to log in and read at the same time. I'd only buy if you're the type of person that needs a print edition!)

- In Saunders, L., & In Wong, M. A. (2020). Reference and information services: An introduction.
- <https://catalog.lib.unc.edu/catalog/UNCb11175081>

Optional textbooks (on reserve so please don't feel the need to buy):

- Upton, M., Hall, C.M., and Cannon, K. (2015). Information now: A graphical guide to student research. Chicago; London: University of Chicago Press. Available at the UNC Student Stores and on Reserve in the SILS Library.
- Ross, Nilsen, and Radford (2009). Conducting the Reference Interview. New York, NY, Neal-Schuman Publishers. Available at the UNC Student Stores and on Reserve in the SILS Library.
- For Youth Services: The School Librarian's Compass: Stories and Reflections to Help You Find Your Way: Rebecca J. Morris

All other readings are available via the UNC Library system <http://www.lib.unc.edu/> or on Canvas.

Professional Conduct and Class Preparation

Each week we will discuss reference sources as well as an aspect of reference service.

- This class will be a combination of lecture, discussion, and group activities.
- Please complete required readings before class so you can participate in the conversation. Comments should be grounded in the readings, sources, and other preparation for the week.
- Many viewpoints, perspectives, and ideas will be shared in this course. All persons will be treated with respect.
- This is a 3-credit hour course; thus, you should expect to spend about 6-9 hours per week on this course outside of class time.

Course Requirements and Deliverables

All assignments are to be uploaded in Canvas by 7:59am on the due date (which you will notice is usually before class). The exception to this is the questions for guests which are due at 11:59pm the night before class.

Due	Project Overview (Detailed assignments prompts for each project will be posted on Sakai)	Course Grade %
9/12/23	Project #1: Research Assistance and Source Collection Analysis - this foundational unit will orient students to traditional research assistance processes. Students will choose a research scenario, and in response will collect and analyze appropriate sources to fulfill the reference inquiry.	20%
10/10/23	Project #2: Reference Librarian Interview and Analysis - in this unit, students will prepare, facilitate, and document an interview with a public services librarian; moreover, the interview will be further examined through an analysis of the interview responses as they relate to course readings, field excursions, and discussions.	25%
11/28/23	Project #3: Library Instruction: Class Resource and Class Facilitation: this final unit will expose students to the end-to-end development of a few key documents and responsibilities of reference librarians. Students will develop a lesson plan and present part of it to their class, along with an asynchronous tool like a course page, tutorial, or resource guide.	30%
Ongoing	Discussion Facilitation: Throughout the semester, students will lead a class discussion on the assigned readings for class. I'll meet with students a week prior to their facilitation date to offer feedback, to provide any necessary materials for activities, and to offer any strategies and ideas.	15%
Ongoing	Participation: Regular attendance and participation in class activities are critical. Participation also includes the completion of Canvas forum responses, in-class activities, and thoughtful engagement with class discussions. This also includes required questions for guest speakers. To receive full credit for participation you must be prepared for the discussions of the readings.	10%
Total		100%

Grading Policies and Attendance

Semester grades will be determined by the level of participation in class discussions and the quality of written assignments.

Grades will be assigned on an H/P/L/F basis. Under this scheme few students will obtain an "H" grade, which signifies a higher level of achievement than an "A" might in other schools' A-F grading systems. This is not to say that earning an "H" is an impossible task, but rather, that the attainment of an "H" in any SILS course denotes a significant academic achievement.

Incompletes will not be assigned on an automatic basis. Rather, they will only be issued in cases of extenuating circumstances such as severe health problems late in the semester. In general, the following grading framework will apply:

H	Superior work: complete command of subject, unusual depth, great creativity or originality.
P+	Above average performance: solid work that extends somewhat beyond what was required to complete the assignment, good command of the material, etc.
P	Completely satisfactory performance: good solid coverage and work. A "P" will be given when a student completes an assignment satisfactorily and according to the instructions.
P-	Marginal performance: not wholly satisfactory (on the whole good, but flawed in some respect)
L	Unacceptable performance: substandard in many respects (seriously deficient)
F	Performance substandard in many/all respects; completely lacking in merit (unworthy of credit)
NOTE: Most students earn a "P" of some variety.

Undergraduate grading scale: 95-100 (A), 90-94 (A-), 87-89 (B+), 83-86 (B), 80-82 (B-), 70-79 (C, same +/- ranges as above), 60-69 (D, same +/- ranges as above), <60 (F)

Attendance at each class session is expected. If you must miss a class, it's your responsibility to make arrangements with one of your classmates to take notes. It's a great idea to have a "note buddy" or to combine notes communally after class. Moreover, the following regulations on a student's class attendance were adopted by the Faculty Council:

Regular class attendance is a student obligation, and a student is responsible for all the work, including texts and written work, of all class meetings. No right or privilege exists which permits a student to be absent from any given number of class meetings. If a student misses three consecutive class meetings or misses more classes than the instructor deems advisable, the instructor will report the facts to the student's academic dean for appropriate action...

In many ways this is a professional degree and your participation in conferences and symposiums is encouraged. If you need to miss a class to attend a conference, symposium, etc. just let me know. If you happen to miss an in-class assignment or activity during your absence, you could make up for it with a short 3-5 minute share-out about the conference you attended and what you learned and did there.

Email correspondence and appointments

Email is my preferred method of contact outside of the classroom. Typically, I respond to emails within 24 hours, but in some instances it may take up to 48 hours. Feel free to send a follow-up email after 48 hours. Please check your UNC email often for updates about deadlines, feedback, and schedule modifications. As I am also a working librarian, you may visit me at my office, 123 Davis library. But I do ask that you email in advance or schedule an appointment; I am not always there.

Diversity and Inclusion

In support of the University's diversity goals and the mission of the UNC School of Information and Library Science, SILS embraces and promotes diversity and inclusion in all their forms. We broadly define diversity to include ability, age, ethnicity, gender, gender identity, gender expression, immigration status, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, and socioeconomic status. SILS is committed to preparing our graduates to be leaders in an increasingly multicultural and global society.

To this end, we strive to:

- Ensure that our leadership, policies, and practices are inclusive
- Integrate diversity into our curriculum and research
- Promote and nurture an environment in which diverse perspectives and experiences are respected and valued
- Recruit and retain students, faculty, and staff from traditionally underrepresented groups

- Participate in outreach to underserved communities in North Carolina and beyond
- We are committed to cultivating an academic environment that is open, representative, and equitable to all.

Accessibility Resources and Services

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill facilitates the implementation of reasonable accommodations, including resources and services, for students with disabilities, chronic medical conditions, a temporary disability or pregnancy complications resulting in difficulties with accessing learning opportunities.

All accommodations are coordinated through the Accessibility Resources and Service Office.

See the ARS Website for contact information: accessibility.unc.edu.

Relevant policy documents as they relate to registration and accommodations determinations and the student registration form are available on the ARS website under the About ARS tab.

Honor Code

All students are expected to follow the Honor Code: http://honor.unc.edu/.

Letters of recommendation

As a librarian, I consider it an honor to write letters of recommendation for students. Especially if you intend to move on in academia or academic librarianship, letters are important parts of applications. The assignments in this class are well-suited to give you experience with various aspects of research and instruction as well as to allow you to foster larger skills like leadership, communication, collaboration, and organization. Please take advantage of these assignments with this in mind if you intend to ask me for a letter of support. Moreover, here are other items to note:

- Please allow me a month's lead time to write the letter.
- Please attach your CV/resume, description of the program/opportunity you're applying for, and instructions on the letter submission process.
- Please keep me updated! Despite the outcome of your application, I would love to hear the results and if there are any other ways I could help support you.

Basic needs security

Any student who faces challenges affording groceries or accessing sufficient food to eat every day, or who lacks a safe and stable place to live, and believes this may affect their performance in this course, is encouraged to contact the Office of the Dean of Students. Furthermore, please notify me if you are comfortable in doing so. This will enable me to provide other resources I may know of. Other resources you may find helpful:

- Carolina Cupboard: Community Food Pantry \(on-campus\)
